

PUTTING THE KETTLE ON?

According to the UK Tea Council, as a nation we guzzle 165 million cups of tea and 70 million cups of coffee every day. If, as some figures suggest, we habitually boil twice as much water as we actually need, we could be needlessly wasting some 3,525 tonnes of CO2 every day.